BRUCE WARREN AND WALTER F. MCDONOUGH, ESQ. TO DELIVER KEYNOTE SPEECHES AT MMC11

Keynote Speaker 2007: Bruce Warren - Assistant General Manager For Programming, WXPB

During the past eight years as Program Director for WXPB and Executive Producer of World Cafe, Bruce Warren has evolved into one of the most knowledgeable and influential voices in public radio today. Warren's commitment to the WXPB vision of offering intelligent, thought-provoking radio has translated into music programs like XPB Artist To Watch and World Cafe Next that engage the listener in an ongoing journey of music discovery. A three-time recipient of R&R's Program Director of the Year Award (2002, 2005, 2006) and Billboard Magazine's Program Director of the Year (2002), Warren has served as president for the Public Radio Program Directors Association (2005-2006). He contributes to Paste Magazine, WXPB All About The Music Blog, the NPR Song of The Day, and is the author of the Some Velvet Blog.

Bruce will speak at 5:15PM on Friday the 16th in the Ballroom of the Radisson Penn Harris Hotel & Convention Center where the eleventh annual Millennium Music Conference will be held.

His keynote speech is entitled, "So You Want To Be A Star? Forget It!"

In thinking about your career and how you will get heard in a noisy, crowded and rapidly changing media landscape, what opportunities should you pursue in getting your music out to "the people?" There are new rules at play in breaking your career and Bruce will provide some insight and advice to you as you look at some of the challenges and opportunities that lie ahead.

Keynote Speaker 2007: Walter F. McDonough, Esq. General Counsel, Future of Music Coalition

Walter F. McDonough is the General Counsel and one of the founders of the Future of Music Coalition. The FMC is a non-profit research institute that examines the law, economics and technology of the music business and is renowned for its annual policy conference. Mr. McDonough also serves as a board member on the United States performing rights society Sound Exchange and the AARC. Mr. McDonough is also an attorney who represents, among others, the Dresden Dolls and Mission of Burma. He is an adjunct professor of copyright law at Suffolk University Law School. Mr. McDonough was an associate at Carroll Guido & Groffman in New York City, one of America's leading music law firms, a former assistant Massachusetts Attorney General and a law clerk for the Honorable Edward F. Harrington of the United States Court for the District of Massachusetts.

Anyone who follows the music and entertainment industries knows that this decade has been one of colossal change and controversy. Although new models like YouTube and MySpace have provided new opportunities for creators, they have also generated litigation and concerns about copyright ownership and distribution of monies. How should the entertainment industry deal with these new entities? What is the proper role of the government in being a referee in these matters? What can recording artists, songwriters and managers do to make sure that they are part of the business and political process? Attorney Walter McDonough will cover all these topics and more in his Keynote Address at 5:15PM on Saturday, February 17th.

Message From The Director

Welcome to the Radisson Penn Harris Hotel & Convention Center and the 11th annual Millennium Music Conference. We are honored that you have joined us as we celebrate our eleventh year.

From its beginnings in 1997, Central Pennsylvania's Rock Music Showcase and Symposium has evolved over a decade into one of the premier events for emerging talent.

We are most pleased to be at the Radisson Penn Harris Hotel & Convention Center and want to thank the staff for their undivided attention. The host hotel features amenities like Bridges Cafe & Lounge, free parking, newly refurbished rooms and proximity to downtown Harrisburg. The 30,000 square-foot Convention Center is ideal for the Millennium Music Conference.

In 2007 we celebrate new music with 250 showcasing acts and artists on 25 stages in and around the City of Harrisburg, PA. Over 150 music industry professionals have assembled as Speakers, Mentors, Exhibitors and Talent Scouts to educate, network, do business and share their experience with the MMC11 attendees. Our sincere appreciation is extended to all the MMC11 Sponsors, Media Partners, Speakers, Mentors, Exhibitors, Musicians, Showcase Venues and the Community for their support and participation in this annual event. Special thanks to 1057-"TheX," The Patriot News Co., PennLive.com, WXPB and our media partners for their support of new music, musicians and the music scene for original acts and artists.

Networking at this music conference can provide you with the tools and contacts to take your music business skills to the next level. Please take every opportunity to meet new people, and exchange ideas and information. The advances in technology that impact the future of the music business are the focus of our afternoon business sessions. The nighttime performances give the selected acts and artists the opportunity to showcase new music and share it with the community.

Please enjoy yourself at MMC11 and be safe during your visit. See you again in February 2008!

It Works!

"Sonicbids has been one of the primary reasons I was able to make the transition from a local New York City and New Jersey act to a national act by helping get my foot in the door to opportunities like Dewey Beach Pop Fest. Sonicbids is unmatched in both quality and the number of opportunities available to all artists."

Jodelle

www.sonicbids.com/jodelle

"Sonicbids is a huge tool for our festival. It allows us to reach bands from places where they never would have heard about Dewey Beach. The bands that submit are very diverse and incredibly talented. Every band that we have selected to perform ends up loving our town and festival!"
